

A Structured Network for the Home - just connect and go

When you make the investment of building a new home, the final result should be a home that is not only attractive and comfortable, but one that also keeps pace with your family's expanding technology needs.

PDL LexCom Home Network's proven networking technology gives you complete control over your home entertainment and communication systems. This up to date home wiring system allows you to take advantage of today's applications such as digital and Pay TV, multiple phone lines, and home Internet access. It also prepares the home for other rapidly emerging technologies.

Highly functional yet easy to use

You can connect to the Internet in every room, or watch your favourite Pay TV program on all TV's with full remote control functionality from any outlet in the home. Universal outlets allow you to access any service in any location with changes able to be made in seconds.

Video

See it anywhere in the house - analogue, digital and Pay TV

Protect your family and home - video or security cameras

Voice

Multiple phone lines - home, office phone and fax lines

Data

A local area network - share files and hardware such as printers, copiers and fax machines

High-speed internet access - web surfing and full speed downloading capability from all the computers in your home

Future

Next generation of electronic technology

Enhance the future value of your home
